

BARROW IS NOW ENEMY NO. 1 OF THE SOUTHWEST

Suppliants "Pretty Boy" Floyd: Two Present Strange Contrast

Kansas City, April 16—(AP)—A year ago the young of the southwest plains was Charles (Pretty Boy) Floyd. Today it's the Texas terrorist, Clyde Barrow.

Since April 27, 1932, Barrow's name has been linked with 12 murders. Five of them occurred in 1933 and three this year.

Less and less of a definite character has been heard of Floyd. Last March 7, Nadine Barrow, a waitress in a Paola, Kas., restaurant, was handed a card by a customer upon which was written "Charles Floyd." She said he fitted the outlaw's description.

Barrow's trail — it has stretched over the states of Texas, Oklahoma, Missouri, Iowa, Kansas, Arkansas, New Mexico and Louisiana — never has been such a vague one.

Study In Contrasts

The two desperadoes are a study in criminal contrasts.

Barrow has the nervous trigger finger. Floyd is cool and calculating. October 11, 1932, at Sherman, Tex., a man identified as Clyde Barrow struck Howard Hall, 67-year-old butcher with a revolver, shot him in the abdomen, then stood over him and fired three more shots into the dying man's body.

Floyd has a bloody record of killing officers while shooting his way out of a trap but, on the other hand, he has been known to enter a place where officers were, been recognized and then walked out. Seeing that Floyd had the "draw" the officers held their fire and so did "Pretty Boy."

Roamer vs. Raider

Barrow is a roamer. Floyd a raider. Barrow within a space of 48 hours often has left a definite trail covering three states. Floyd's tactics have been to rob a bank then swiftly disappear, more often than not into the Cooks hills of Oklahoma which he knows well.

Barrow's companion is a woman Auburn-haired Bonnie Parker, who has been taught by her outlaw associate how to shoot. Floyd's associates are men.

In one respect, the two desperadoes come under the same heading. They both are wanted badly, dead or alive. Large rewards hang over their heads. The search for them is unrelenting and continuous.

ALABAMA MINE RIOT RESULTS IN 4 CLOSINGS

Action Adds 3,500 to Idle Miners in State Today

Birmingham, Ala., Apr. 16—(AP)—Two Negroes were injured today at the Hamilton and Decena coal mines of the Tennessee Coal, Iron & Railroad Co., as hundreds of striking miners rioted about the shafts.

The Tennessee Company immediately announced suspension of operations at four mines, adding 3,500 to the 14,000 idle miners in the state.

Sheriff J. F. Hawkins immediately swore in 100 special deputy sheriffs to patrol the area. Order was restored in a short time.

The shutting down of the four mines, Decena, Hamilton, Edgewater and Wyman completely closed the Tennessee's coal mining operations, but whether it would affect its steel and iron plants at Fairfield and Ensley was not announced.

The Tennessee company operates "captive mines," taking the full supply of coal in the manufacture of steel at its Fairfield and Ensley plants, both of which have been operating steadily for several months.

Margin Requirement President's Desire

Washington, April 16—(AP)—Speaker Rainey said today that President Roosevelt wants the stock market control bill to contain definite margin requirements.

Both the Senate Banking committee and House Interstate Commerce subcommittee worked today on the legislation in an effort to speed it to passage.

The House bill provides a 45 per cent margin requirement, but the Senate measure leaves it entirely to the Federal Reserve board.

Speaker Rainey Is Not Opposing Bank Pay Off Legislation

Washington, April 16—(AP)—Explaining that he could not "see much objection" to the McLeod bill to pay off depositors in closed banks, Speaker Rainey predicted to reporters today that if the legislation is brought to a House vote it will be approved in that branch of Congress.

Effort to Close High School Fails

Fairfield, Ill., April 16—(AP)—Albion high school students continued their strike today after an unsuccessful factional attempt to close the school because of taxes.

With an overwhelming majority Albion citizens voted Saturday to conduct a full school term, after a group had petitioned for a vote to close the institution as a means of reducing taxes.

Sold $8,000 in Stolen Stage Cash for $3; 'Twas Real

Chicago, April 16—(AP)—Three boys who stole $8,000 in currency and sold it as stage money for $3 were surprised today to find it was real.

They were picked up as burglary suspects today and admitted breaking into the home of Mrs. Florence Hentschel and taking everything in sight. The $8,000 in large bills was the entire fortune of Mrs. Hentschel, withdrawn from a downtown bank a year ago when banks didn't seem so safe to her.

The boys, aged 15 and 17, admitted their knees were shaking when they took the money to a fence.

"That's stage money," the fence told them. "I'll give you $3 for it to take it off your hands. It's a good imitation and you'll go to prison if it's found on you."

They also sold him for a few dollars the $50 worth of jewelry, watch, and 127 rare coins valued at $300, taken from roomers at the Hentschel home.

Police are looking for the fence who made the transaction.

DEATHS OF TWO CHILDREN ARE INVESTIGATED

Cook County Coroner Hails Inquest Into Second Death

Chicago, April 16—(AP)—Investigating the deaths of two children in the Henry Koch family, Deputy Coroner Chris J. McGarigle today ordered police to bring the family medicine supply into the city laboratories.

He halted an inquest into the death of Theresa Koch, 5, for further investigation after learning that Theresa's brother, Henry, Jr., 2, died 43 days after a one-day illness. McGarigle indicated that he was interested in powders which a nurse testified were given to Theresa and suspected a fatal error may have been made in compounding them.

Dr. J. H. Nowlin signed a death certificate for the boy, citing pneumonia as the cause. He refused to sign a certificate in the girl's death, however, saying he was unable to determine the malady.

Koch testified that he had no family troubles and no enemies. A nurse said the powders that remained were thrown out after Theresa's death.

No scarlet fever cases existed in Dixon up until 8 o'clock this morning, Dr. Werren stated, when the case in the west end of the city was reported and quarantined. Several surrounding cities have numerous cases and rumors without foundation have been circulated locally of numerous cases in Dixon. He advised citizens to be alert but added that there was no cause for alarm at this time.

Fr. Coughlin Ends Winter Broadcasts

Detroit, April 16—(AP)—The Rev. Charles E. Coughlin has completed his winter series of addresses with a recommendation that the Federal Reserve Banking System be abolished and supplemented by a National Bank of the United States.

Fr. Coughlin explained in his address yesterday that the joint discussion in which he was to have had as guest speaker Dr. Raymond Moley and Ferdinand Pecora had been cancelled through "circumstances over which I have no control but with them." "Alfalfa Bill's" Use of Troops Prevented Tax Sales in Eleven Oklahoma Counties; Called Off

Oklahoma City, Apr. 16—(AP)—Gov. William H. (Alfalfa Bill) Murray and his National Guardsmen today apparently had won another victory as three more counties called off advertised sales of tax delinquent property.

The Terry Democratic Governor, who had ordered the arrest of any official attempting a delinquent tax sale on the ground "protection for the homes of the people in stressful times like these is a vital policy transcending any temporary loss in taxes," anticipated there would be no sales in two other counties to which he had sent troops, and from which there has been no report. These two were Cotton and Craig.

Treasurers of Garfield, Blaine and Bryan cancelled sales today. Six other counties Major, Washington, Beaver, Stevens, Choctaw and McClain—already had called off their dogs. These 11, scattered throughout the state, were the only ones to which troops had been sent.

POSTAL WORKERS GET GOOD NEWS OVER WEEK END

Payless Furloughs and Curtailed Service to End May 1st.

Washington, April 16—(AP)—Curtailed mail deliveries and payless furloughs for postal workers will end May 1 because better business has raised postal revenue.

Postmaster General Farley yesterday revoked the provisions of an order of March 2 that took away the furlough privileges and slashed the number of mail deliveries.

He gave as the reason: "Improved business conditions throughout the country have resulted in x x x a substantial increase in postal revenues during the months of February and March and offer x x x prospects of continued increases."

The increase in the volume of mail, he added, "is regarded as an accurate barometer of improved business conditions."

Starting May 1 residential sections of cities will receive two instead of one mail delivery daily. Business areas will get mail four instead of three times, and mixed districts three instead of two times a day. Window service also will be back on longer hours.

The March 2 order was issued to keep Postoffice Department expenditures within budget figures. The only part not rescinded postponed vacations until the next fiscal year starting July 1.

Communication with Rochester this morning revealed that Mr. Alexander's condition was very serious. Mrs. Alexander of this city, son John and daughter, Mrs. Russell Tabor of Omaha, are at his bedside.

Former Historical Librarian is Dead

Jacksonville, Ill.—For more than 25 years Illinois State Librarian in charge of the State Historical Library at Springfield, Miss Georgia Osborne, died here in a hospital. She retired from state service three years ago.

The executor has stayed his hand to await the decision of the three men, trustees of the estate of Mrs. Rolla J. Parker.

The dog, Pal O'Cragsman, a prize aireale one six years old, once restored Mrs. Parker to consciousness, licking her face after she had fainted while alone in her hotel room.

For this, he added a citation of heroism to the many blue ribbons he had won in dog shows.

Although Mrs. Parker left instructions with Dr. Charles W. Bower, a veterinarian, that Pal O'Cragsman should follow her in death, there was no mention of the dog in her will.

Dr. Bower said: "I shall follow instructions," but has expressed a desire to keep the dog at his animal home should the administrators decide to shoot him.

The manager of Mrs. Parker's hotel, John Sweet, was certain there would be a home for the dog—and hundreds of Topeka citizens agreed with him.

The trustees, J. E. Kirk, banker, Oliver Meershead, merchant, and John Purcell, assistant to the vice president of the Santa Fe railroad said they would seek further for any written instructions as to disposition of the dog.

This compared with a net increase of 32,000 in the preceding quarter and net loss of 340,000 in the first three months of 1933. Each month since last August has shown a gain, he said.

Springfield, Ill., April 16—(AP)—Four Chicago attorneys were disbarred today by the Supreme Court following complaint of the Chicago Bar Association.

Jacob Katz, Arthur J. Ahearn and Leslie P. Wheland, all of Chicago, were disbarred for converting client's funds to their own use. Louis Klaas, Chicago, was disbarred because he failed to answer charges filed against him.

The request of Thomas O'Meara, Ottawa, to have his name reinstated on the role of attorneys was referred to the Illinois Bar Association. O'Meara voluntarily ceased practice of law in April 1932.

GEORGE COVERT HOME ROBBED DURING WEEK

Loot Valued at $500 Taken During Own- er's Absence

The property of George Covert on Johnson street, north of Assembly park has been the scene of several robberies during the past week, it was learned this morning, when the owner reported to Deputy Sheriff Ward Miller the loss of canned goods and other property of the value of about $500. Loots had been piled off buildings at the Covert home, which has been unoccupied, and every building thoroughly ransacked.

The door of a fruit cellar was forced open and about 500 quarts of fruit taken. A tool shed was practically stripped, the residence was entered and a number of household articles hauled away. Indications pointed to a car having made several trips to the property in carting away the property. Tools, dresses, suit cases filled with wearing apparel and numerous other articles have been hauled away during the past week.

The property has been unoccupied for some weeks, but practically all of the effects were in the buildings. Mr. Covert was out of the city all of last week and had not visited his property for some time until yesterday, when the robbery was discovered.

CANINE-HERO'S FATE IS UP TO BOARD OF THREE

Will of Dead Mistress Decreed Prize Dog Should be Killed

Topeka, Kas., April 16—(AP)—With cooed words and wagging tail, Pal O'Cragsman heard today he wasn't to be chloroformed but could spend the rest of his natural days burying bones—if burying bones it not beneath the dignity of a national champion aireale—doing whatever a dog prefers to do in his leisure.

The threat of death that has hung over the dog since his mistress, Mrs. Rolla J. Parker, died leaving instructions the dog be chloroformed after her death, was removed today when administrators of the estate instructed that Pal O'Cragsman be kept from harm until a good home is found for him.

MRS. INSULL IS NOT JOINING HER HUSBAND AT SEA

Ex-Magnate Spends Most of His Day In Writing

S. S. Exilona, at Sea, April 16—(AP)—Samuel Insull denied today that his wife would join him at Catania, Sicily, tomorrow and return with him to the United States, where the aged Chicagoan faces criminal charges. Reservations aboard the Exilona had been left open for Mrs. Insull in the event she decided to return to America with her 74-year-old husband.

The Exilona was less than 24 hours steaming distance from Catania, where it will arrive early Tuesday. Insull, in the custody of Burton Y. Berry of the American embassy at Istanbul, spent most of the day writing letters which he will send ashore tomorrow.

The former utilities magnate will not be allowed to leave the ship.

Nila's New Husband Refuses to Assent to Divorce Action

Chicago, April 16—(AP)—Nila Cram Cook's former cabin boy husband described their romance as the "oddest, strangest in history."

Arriving here early today from New York, Albert N. Hutchins expressed surprise that his wife sought an annulment of their marriage.

"But an annulment can't be granted after two people have lived together as we did," he said. "To get a divorce, Nila would need grounds, which I do not intend to give, and anyway that would take six months at least."

"No, I'm afraid Nila will have to stay married to me whether she likes it or not."

Mrs. Hutchins said in New York, in announcing her plans for an annulment in California, that her husband was "lost" out of his "romantic element and setting at sea."

Two Industrious Burglars Forced to Work Overtime

Chicago, April 16—(AP)—Two hard-working burglars had to do overtime today, and not much did they get for it unless you count the healthy, early morning exercises.

The pair had just finished loading 400 pounds of bar tin into their automobile from the plant of the General Household Utilities Corporation, when along came George Nielsen, night watchman.

With his revolver for a baton, Nielsen conducted them through the store again, in reverse English. By the time police arrived, heads of dishonest sweat stood out on the brows of the two culprits. To complete the unburling they had to tote the 400 pounds of tin bars back from their car to the factory, up four flights of stairs and down a long corridor to the stock room.

And so to bed, tired but unhappy, in a neat little cell.

'PLEASING' MAN IS SOUGHT FOR DEATH OF GIRL

Shreveport Officials Without Clues in Brutal Murder

Shreveport, La., April 16—(AP)—Police sought a "pleasing" man of about fifty years of age today for the slaying of Mae Griffin, 15.

The girl's body was found in a woods near an exclusive section of West Shreveport, her throat slashed and her flowered yellow dress partly torn away. Dr. Willis Butler, coroner, said there was evidence that the girl had been attacked criminally. He said she had been dead two or three days.

Mrs. Maggie Peters, widowed mother of the girl, told officers that after much persuasion she had consented to let her daughter accompany a "Mr. Jackson" to the latter's home where it was understood the girl would serve as a companion to his ill wife. The man had explained that he worked nights.

Her suspicions aroused too late, Mrs. Peters sought aid of relatives an hour after her daughter had left with the man. It was quickly established that the home address given by the man was fictitious.

Mrs. Peters said her daughter was to have been married soon to Lee Looney of Board Camp, Ark.

SALESMAN AND CHAUFFEUR ARE THUGS' VICTIMS

Latter Missing in Du- Page Co.: Had Just Been Employed

Chicago, April 16—(AP)—Deputies and county highway police were searching fields near Downers Grove, Ill., a Chicago suburb, for Don Lombardi, a chauffeur seized by a bandit squad which bound and robbed his employer.

The employer, S. M. Zukor of Brooklyn, N. Y., reported the hold-up and kidnapping to DuPage county authorities early today, after he had wigwagged loose from his bonds. Four holdup men stopped his car last night, Zukor said, on a road southwest of Chicago, and while two boarded it, two others ordered the chauffeur into their own car.

After driving for several miles, Zukor's two captors robbed him of $80, bound and gagged him, and threw him into a field. He managed to free himself toward morning. Police thought the chauffeur might be found bound as Zukor was.

Zukor, salesman for an artificial leather concern, had employed Lombardi only recently, and the two were enroute to Downers Grove to tell Lombardi's parents that they planned to drive to New York this week.

CHICAGO GRAIN PRICES SMASHED IN DAY'S TRADE

Downturns Reach Limit Allowed in Single Day's Session

Chicago, April 16—(AP)—Smashing downturns of grain prices today quickly followed Speaker Rainey's announcement in Washington that the President was opposed to any silver legislation during the present session of Congress. The downturns were at the maximum permitted in a single day's session, five cents for wheat, four for corn and three for oats.

The maximum break came only minutes before trading ceased for the day and at the close prices were resting flat on the bottom. May wheat closed at 80 1/8 cents a bushel, only 1-8 higher than the day's lowest quotation. May corn, under pressure from the start, closed at 42 1/2 cents and May oats finished at 28 3/8 cents, both the lowest points for the day.

On Anniversary

The tremendous break came almost a year to the day from the start of one of the greatest bull markets in history. A year ago today wheat was selling between 60 and 63 cents a bushel. The market had gradually crawled up from 42 1/2 cents, the all time low established for the winter before, and was just about to step into high gear. The blind upward rush of values was suddenly halted in July when the failure of a huge speculator, said to have been Dr. E. A. Crawford, caused prices to tumble more than 30 cents a bushel in two days. The peak reached for wheat was $1.28 1/2 a bushel.

'Pegs' Established

Following the disastrous July crash in prices, the market was forced for a time and when trading was resumed, "pegs" or daily limits beyond which the market was not permitted to fluctuate were established. The daily movement, either upward or downward, was limited to five cents a bushel in wheat, four cents in corn and three cents in oats. Today was the first time that these limits had been invoked to halt the market in many months.

Selling assumed gigantic proportions, compared with the average daily trade of late, on the downward slide of prices, and the pits were a madhouse again, resembling last summer's frantic markets near the close.

BISHOP CANNON OFFERED TO CON- CEAL DONATION

Testimony to that Ef- fect Given in His Trial Today

Washington, April 16—(AP)—Evidence that Bishop James Cannon, Jr., offered—in the words of the prosecution—to have a contribution "concealed" during his 1928 campaign against the presidential candidacy of Alfred E. Smith, was given today in the trial of the Southern Methodist churchman.

Earlier, Justice Peyton Gordon in District of Columbia supreme court overruled a defense objection to mention of Bishop Cannon's prohibition views. The defense insisted that might prejudice the jury.

A letter purporting to have been written by Cannon to William C. Gregg of Hackensack, N. J., said if he wished to have a $500 contribution "concealed" "it can be utilized in the literary fund of the Board of Temperance and Social Service of the Methodist Episcopal Church South."

The letter pointed out that contributions made directly to anti-smith organizations had to be reported to the Clerk of the House of Representatives.

During her early years Mrs. Rhynes was a circus snake dancer and charmer.

BULWINKLE IN RETRACTION OF WIRT CHARGES

Apologizes For A False Statement He Made on House Floor

Washington, April 16—(AP)—In a speech to the House, Representative Bulwinkle (D. N. C.) today retracted and apologized for his previous statement that Dr. William A. Wirt, author of the "brain trust" revolution" allegations, had been confined to jail during the war because of pro-German activities.

Bulwinkle is chairman of the special House committee that is investigating Wirt's statements. Tomorrow it will hear six persons who attended the dinner last September.

Quoted Statement Bulwinkle quoted this remark which he made on the floor last week:

"He (Dr. Wirt) was not here to be investigated. If he had been, I would have gone into his private character. If he had been, I would have brought out from him the fact that during the war, on account of his pro-German activities, he was confined to jail at Gary, Indiana."

Then he added:

"After a thorough investigation of the report, which came to me by what anyone would consider reliable sources, I am convinced that the report is not true, and therefore, as a man and a member of this House, after ascertaining that the report was untrue and unfounded, and in order that no injustice might be done to Dr. Wirt, it is my duty to correct such statement made by me on the floor of the House on April 11th."

And I therefore tender my apology to Dr. Wirt.

"I make this statement here today for the purpose also of showing that the committee was not prosecuting Dr. Wirt. It was simply investigating whether or not the statements made by Dr. Wirt, and read to the committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce by Dr. Rand, were true or not."

DANE, ONE TIME STAR OF FILMS, TOOK OWN LIFE

"Slim" of "Big Parade" was Victim of Talk- ing Pictures

Los Angeles, Apr. 16—(AP)—Karl Dane, who earned $1500 a week when he was a star in silent pictures, may be buried in a pauper's grave.

Surrounded by seven-year-old photographs and press clippings of the days when he was famous, Dane shot himself through the head Saturday night. His body lay in the county morgue today, destined for the potter's field unless friends claim it.

Born Rasmus Thekelson Gottlieb 47 years ago in Copenhagen, Denmark, he came to this country as an automobile mechanic and reached the height of his film fame just as talking pictures were coming in.

He was best known for his acting on the part of "Slim," the gawky, haw-boned private who rolled his big eyes and provided the comic relief in the "Big Parade," one of the last outstanding silent pictures.

The actor's strong Danish accent barred him from the talking films, and their advent precipitated him on a rapid decline into obscurity.

Official Counts

Return Democrat to Lower House

Springfield, Ill., April 16—(AP)—Glen Patefish, Virginia, Democratic Representative from the 30th Senatorial district, who appeared to have been defeated for re-nomination on unofficial returns, today was shown to have won when the official returns from Cass county were announced.
Unofficial returns had shown him trailing Mayor T. Flowerer, Easton by several hundred votes. The Cass county returns, however, made Patefish, who resides in that county, the winner by a small margin.

COUNTY'S CCC
ROLL REPORTEDPlaces Remain for Six;
Registration Will Close Tomorrow

With the close of the registration for the CCC camps Tuesday evening, vacancies exist in the Lee county quota which may be filled at once, it was announced today from the county National Re-employment headquarters at the city hall. Two vacancies were reported in the classification under 18 years of age, which is known as the junior group, and four in the senior group, from 18 to 25 years. The county quota provides for 33 in the senior group and 10 in the junior classification. Any one interested is requested to make immediate application, the registration closing Tuesday evening.

Information from the National Re-employment offices today revealed that employment had been furnished to approximately 185 men from Dixon during the past ten day period. Citizens requiring either temporary or permanent employment of men or women are urged to cooperate in the program by calling the office, telephone 28, or making personal application.

A number of men from Dixon and Lee county have been assigned to the federal project at Eagle Point, Wis., near Dubuque, Iowa, where they are now working on Mississippi river improvement projects. The local office anticipates additional applications for workmen under War Department river improvement projects on the Mississippi river within a short time. Practically all of the requests for workmen from Lee county, however, is confined to skilled and experienced tradesmen.

FEDERATION OF LABOR IN PLEA
FOR PATIENCESeen as New Promise of Peace in Motor Car Industry

Detroit, Apr. 16—(AP)—Organized labor threw its support to the National Automobile Labor Board today, bringing a new promise of genuine peace to the motorcar industry.

At a meeting of labor leaders in Pontiac yesterday a plea was made to workers to exercise patience while the labor board studies its problems. The leaders from seven Michigan cities, from Ohio and from Wisconsin, urged the board to act with all possible speed, out of consideration of the thousands of workers who are now awaiting the board's decisions.

William Collins, chief organizer of the American Federation of Labor in the automobile industry, sounded the keynote of patience. It was echoed in a telegram from William Green in which the president of the federation asked workers to "keep their feet on the ground while the board is working out its problems."

A resolution was adopted expressing confidence in the board, in Richard L. Byrd, labor's representative on the board, and in President Green.

Socialists Find New Deal Failure

Stanton, Ill., April 16—(AP)—

The Socialist party of Illinois has decided the "new deal" is a failure.

Whatever relief has been afforded by it, a resolution adopted by the party's convention here yesterday said, is psychological, not real.

The "new deal" the resolution said, is "preparing the ground for exploitation of the masses." Socialism, it declared, is the only means of abolishing the system of private profit, "necessary for real relief."

Another resolution urged that all federal funds earmarked for the Army and Navy be diverted to unemployment relief.

In the hush there can be heard
The singing of a meadow lark.
A robin, any bird.

The western sky is lighted
With a rosy golden hue;
The purple sweeping clouds
Lift graceful arms to you.

And high above me in the sky
A star begins to peep.
My eyes are dimmed with tears—
drops,
But I'm not going to weep.

My bosom's filled with rapture
As I breathe the refreshing air,

Slumber Song—Gretchenminoff

Quilting Party

Mrs. Potter's well chosen numbers sung in such a charming manner, prepared the audience for the speaker of the afternoon, for Mrs. Walther of Lombard, Ill., gave the club a talk with such dignity and quiet charm as is seldom experienced in these days of abruptness and rushing about.

She used as her subject "The Romance of Quilts." In speaking of the early pioneer days when quilt making originated, she said, "The provider was the head of the house and the woman expressed herself in her quilt making and other needle work." While today an activity may be a fad and be put into a song in those days they had to be real before they became a song.

"Political and Religious beliefs were reflected in the making of quilt blocks." Concerning the technique of quilt making she spoke briefly of the design, materials, needles and thread and filler to be used. As she spoke of the great number of designs she illustrated by showing blocks of a great many of the famous patterns—from the crazy quilt, great brier wall, flying birds, log cabin, bears paw, pine tree, Dolly Madison to several of the modern patterns.

The Garden class of the club had a beautifully appointed formal tea table on display. The committee who arranged it consisted of Mrs. W. J. Sullivan, Mrs. Louis Pitcher, Mrs. Harry Edwards and Mrs. Warren Murray. Mrs. Sullivan spoke briefly on the origin of the tea table custom, telling of the three distinctive types and explaining the setting of the one on display.

During the social hour delightful refreshments were served by the hostesses with Mrs. Otto Goetz and Mrs. Frank Reed pouring. The hostesses were Misses Edna Decker, Wohlke, Stoner and Mesdames Burdick, Chapman, Hoon, Reed, U. D. Hartzell and Reilly.

Shape of Face Governs Coiffure

(By ALICIA HART)

If you're planning a new spring coiffure, carefully consider the shape of your face.

A round face is flattered by the new windblown arrangements but the forehead line should be exposed to give length to a profile. Waves should be wide and soft but distinctly slanted to eliminate the broad effect.

Spring Fever

Say "spring fever" to most adults and they think of sulphur and molasses. Although such so-called tonics and blood purifiers are gradually, and deservedly, passing out of general use, the fact remains there is a condition which we come to know as "spring fever."

In reality, spring has nothing to do with it. Winter is the season at fault. We are shut in more and subjected to colds, sore throats, and the like during the winter. We take less exercise and receive less sunshine. We lack quantities of green vegetables and fruits in our diets. By the time spring rolls around, the reserves of strength and energy are approaching low tide.

We speak of being "run-down" or "tired-out." And that is what it is—a mental and physical "let down," for children as well as adults. But the answer is not medicine. Send the child out of doors; let him get sunshine; bring on the fresh vegetables and fruits. If there isn't a pick-up, by all means consult your physician, for the "let down" may have brought on something more serious.

"Desserts," an important matter where children are concerned, will be discussed by Dr. Ireland next week.

Angel Cake's a Heavenly Dessert Made With a Cocoanut Crest

By NEA Service

Angel food cake is an ideal dessert for late spring luncheons and dinners. It's light enough to tempt indolent appetites and at the same time provides just the right "sweetness" in a menu.

Time was when an angel cake always was served plain, but nowadays smart cooks are putting things, shredded cocoanut or chopped nuts on this champagne of cakes. Here's a simple recipe for cocoanut crested angel food cake:

Sift one cup of flour four times and let stand in a dish. Beat one cup of egg whites and one-fourth teaspoon of salt with a flat wire whisk and, when foamy, add one teaspoon of cream of tartar and continue beating until eggs are stiff enough to hold up in peaks, but not too dry.

Fold in one and one-fourth cups of sifted granulated sugar, two tablespoons at a time, until all is used. Then fold in three-fourths teaspoon of vanilla and one-fourth teaspoon of almond extract. Sift a small amount of flour over mixture and fold in carefully. Continue adding flour until the cupful has been used.

Pour the batter into a greased angel food pan and sprinkle with one-half cup of cocoanut. Bake in a slow oven at least one hour. Begin at 275 F. and, after thirty minutes, increase the heat thirty minutes longer. Remove it from the oven and invert pan for one hour or until the cake is cold.

At the close of the program the hostess served a delicious luncheon.

Guests present were Mrs. Smith of Ottawa and Miss Anna Meade of Dixon.

The acorn still finds a place in the human diet particularly in the Far East where the nuts are baked, shelled, ground into flour, and used to make a type of bread. In earlier days the Indians in this country used the acorn of the white oak and the sweet acorn of the Pacific states. In England the acorn is a valuable food for fattening hogs, and the so-called right of pannage is practiced. Under this right individuals are permitted to turn their hogs loose in the king's forests to feed on the falling nuts.

A NEW COMMUNIST CAMPAIGN.

(Tucson, Ariz., Daily Star)

Astutely and wisely, quietly but firmly, without the blares of violence and campaigns of class hatred, a new communist offensive has been launched in the United States. This offensive, unlike previous ones in the United States, has long range plans, and counts on a program of education rather than an immediate violent revolution. Its immediate objective is the school system of the United States, which it plans to secure by the power of persuasion rather than by the club.

The movement has originated, not in Russia, but in a small group of professors of education in the teachers' college of Columbia university. With the prestige of this great school behind it this group, in the disguise of improving education, has begun its program. At the recent Cleveland educational conference its members took a prominent part, where, without the slightest fear, they urged to the educators of America that the function of the educational system was to educate children to enable them to take their proper place in a collectivist social order which our country would see in the future.

The smartness and resourcefulness of this group is shown by the way it presents its program. They have seen the mistakes of violent Reds, and have realized the wisdom of selling their program in an attractive package called democracy. All that they urge is urged in the name of democracy, and the contents of the package they claim is that long sought Utopian "realized economy of abundance." Their success in propagating their program is shown by the fact that it was placed before the educational authorities of Arizona in the meeting of the Arizona Guidance conference, a conference to discuss plans and technique of vocational guidance.

The true meaning of this "realized economy of abundance" is shown by the books listed on the Arizona Guidance program and recommended for reading. All of the books either condemn ownership of private property and the system of democracy America has seen, or they are books exposing the errors of our society and insisting that the government must take over all instruments of production. The implication of "a realized economy" is communism. They differ little, if any, from the ideals of Lenin himself, save that Lenin insisted that such a program could be brought about only by violent revolution. In other words, the sponsors of this new idea of the purpose of education would have our educational systems become great institutions for propaganda of an economic and social system similar to that now in effect in Russia and they call it "democracy."

That a small, insignificant state like Arizona should have such ideas incorporated as a part of an educational conference shows the effectiveness of this newest communist campaign. In a way, the Arizona educators are not to be blamed too severely. The bait was alluring. A fish when he bites at attractive bait does not expect to get hooked. And so this new communist campaign has the attractive bait of democracy coupled with "a realized economy of abundance," and its implications of so much of everything that there will be no competition, but little work, and no want or misery. In these desperate times such bait is doubly alluring.

If this new communist campaign has thus reached Arizona, what must be going on elsewhere in the country? It shows with more emphasis than ever before the need of watching educational programs to the end that schools be kept as educational institutions devoted to impartial instruction rather than as propaganda agencies for any particular clique.

As President Hutchins of the University of Chicago said in a recent interview in Tucson, such a program is dangerous to the school and dangerous to the country. Let it not be repeated in Arizona.

PERPENDICULAR HEADLIGHTS.

New streamline trains now being built for the Union Pacific railways will carry a perpendicular headlight, supplemental to the horizontal one to which we all are accustomed.

The perpendicular light, a sort of pillar of fire, is intended to carry warning to automobile drivers a longer distance than is possible with the horizontal light.

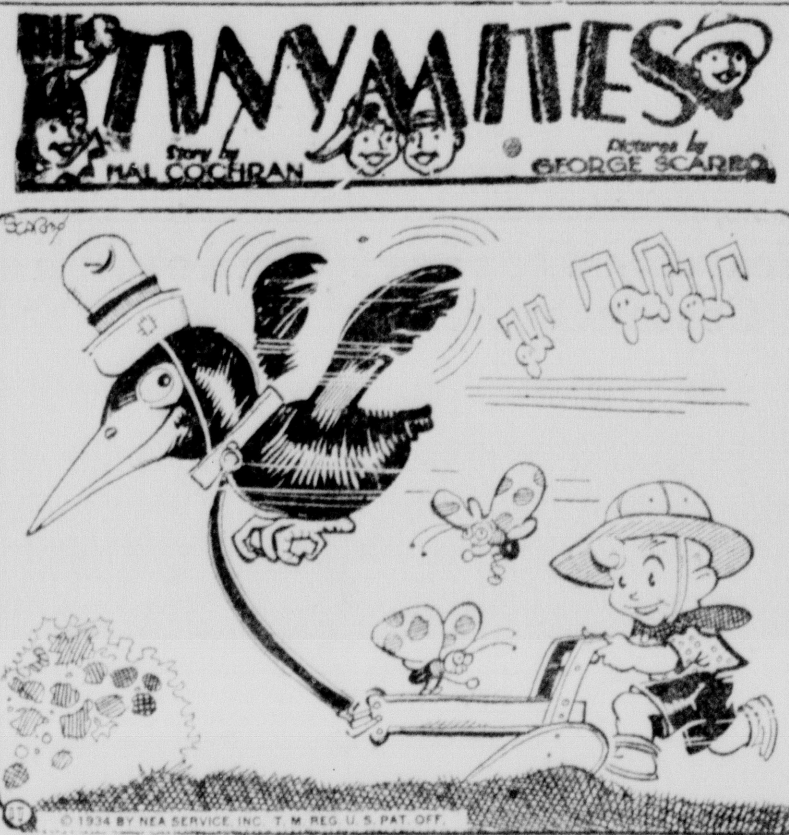

Locomotive light now in use are not efficient in pointing around curves not yet reached. Over the hills and through the woods they do the best they can, but they work under well-known handicaps, which have been demonstrated on occasions.

How far these perpendicular lights may be seen on dark and stormy nights or on moonlight nights has not been indicated in the advance notices. We shall learn of that later. Everyone stands ready to endorse the new deal the locomotive is to give us.

But railways may demand that automobiles be lighted the same way.

And so I worked out the fan dance, which is a geometrical problem—two circles and a straight line.—Sally Rand.

A republican is one who firmly believes in recovery, but not by revolution.—Col. Frank Knox, Chicago publisher.

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

Of course wee Dotty got a scare when the old scarecrow cried, "Hi, there!" She shivered when they shook hands. Then the scarecrow laughed aloud.

"Don't be afraid of me," said he. "I'm just as harmless as can be. Why, meeting me, young lady, ought to make you feel real proud. I stand out in the field all day and scare the thieving crows away. That saves the farmer's grain and lets his crops grow as they should."

"I'll bet you never thought you'd meet the man who guards things that you eat. Of course I'm funny-looking, but I'm doing lots of good."

By this time Dotty felt all right. Said she, "You're an awful plight. I'd hate to have to stand out here, beneath the blazing sun. You said that you would like to play. All right, then, let's be on our way. I'll lead you to my little friends and we'll have lots of fun."

They shortly joined the Tiny-mites and Scouty cried, "Of all the sights! Where did you find the scarecrow?" "In the field," wee Dotty cried.

"He wants to join us in our fun. Come on, one of you Tines, run and hitch one of the horses. Then we'll let him have a ride."

It wasn't very long until the scarecrow got a great big thrill. While seated on the horse's back, the horse jumped round and round.

The rider hung on, brave and bold. Then, suddenly, he lost his hold. In just about a moment he was sprawling on the ground.

"I am not hurt," he loudly cried. "In fact, that was a dandy ride. Then Goldy pointed to a windmill, shouting, 'Look up there!'"

Two of the Tynymites had crawled away up high, and they were sprawled upon the windmill paddles like were whirling round in air.

(The scarecrow puts a big crow to work in the next story.)

Living Our Everyday Lives

THE HIGHER HABITS

(By Dr. Joseph Fort Newton)

"Sow an act and reap a habit; sow a habit and reap a character; sow a character and reap a destiny." So runs an old saying, and it is very true, but very far from being the whole truth.

Life is largely a thing of habit; a man is what he eats, what he thinks, what he does. His character is the sum of his habits, but the danger is that habit may run character into a rut and ruin it.

Habits are good servants but poor masters. We must not only make habits, but unmake and remake them as we go along. Otherwise, if left alone, they easily petrify character, and lead to a destiny that is a standstill. That is, character must be fluent, not fixed and fatal.

Habit is a form of automatic activity; it becomes "second nature," as we say. But when life hardens in that way it ceases to grow, becomes merely a system of responses, and death sets in. It is like the hardening of the arteries, a slow stiffening of life until the end.

This is as sure of habits of mind as it is of habits of the body. The advance of the race is held back because our minds run in ruts and cannot get out, cannot adopt new ways of thinking. Grooves of thought deepen into graves, and we are unable to adapt ourselves to new truth.

How easy it is to mistake a prejudice for a principle, and a fixation for a philosophy. Before he knows it a man has drifted, or dropped into a way of thinking which mars his life, makes him sore, sour or cynical. It is just a bad mental habit and he must take it in hand.

"Put habit on the side of the spiritual life," Gladstone wrote in his letters to his children. He did that himself, going every morning to the communion service before taking the train for London—kneeling with the pitmen on his estate at the altar of worship.

Our lack or loss of faith, our gloomy cynical outlook on life, may be just an unhappy habit or of the heart. A little inner care, a little wholesome discipline in forming the higher habits, would lift shadow and lighten the load and send us singing to our task.

POETS' CORNER

THE FIRST SPRING RAIN

It's music to the waiting ear,
When winter flurries disappear
And pattering on the window pane
Is lightly falling first spring rain.

It seems so much to send to earth
A sudden sounding merrier mirth
Than winter winds would always bring,
When ice-bound brooklets could not sing.

The first spring birds enjoy the shower,
And flutter in a bathing bower;
While folks feel, too, a different thrill,
Because the air is not so chill.

Some sense of vibrant life o'er all,
That differs from the early fall,
Is started when the first spring rain
Baptizes ground for growing grain.

Brother of Immortal Charles Dickens Once Was Resident of Amboy

Entered Employ of I. C. There; Buried in Chicago

Augustus N. Dickens, brother of Charles Dickens, celebrated English novelist, was at one time employed by the Illinois Central railroad, first as a clerk and later as a correspondent in the land department of the line in the Chicago office, according to an article appearing in an issue of the Illinois Central magazine.

He entered the service of the railroad in July, 1860, and remained until his death on Oct. 4, 1866. A son of the novelist, Francis Dickens, one of the family for whom Dickens wrote the Life of Christ is buried in Riverside cemetery, Moline.

The story of Augustus N. Dickens as it appears in the railroad magazine by Livingston Wright of Revere, Mass., follows:

Started as Reporter

Few are aware that a brother of Charles Dickens, one of the most celebrated novelists of the world, was for years in the employ of the Illinois Central Railroad and died in its service.

The unceasing interest and development of book publishing and club-organizing to satisfy the longing of the public for Dickens' anecdotes (several new books have just been issued, and a Bostonian has hatched a thick volume on Charles Dickens' Days in Boston) lend a special force to this note regarding the Illinois Central.

To begin with, it is rather odd to learn that while the immortal Charles was feeling his way toward world fame by signing some of his writings as Sketches by Boz, the real Mr. Boz was out in Amboy, Illinois, and unconsciously heading for the Illinois Central headquarters.

This was Augustus Dickens, full brother of Charles, and born in Portsmouth, England, in 1826. Augustus had always borne the pet name, given by his family, of Boz. So Charles, despite his genius, was not the original Boz, as so many have insisted. Like Charles and like the father of the family, however, Gus was "one of them dam rappers" as Dooley says.

Fresh from a reporter's job in London (he was at one time an actual traveling correspondent for the London News) Augustus descended on Amboy with a purpose somewhat remote from feature-writing. He had a violent case of "land fever." New soil was being opened up, and he wanted to be in at the opening.

Failed As Merchant

Oh, ye legion of moderns, what wot ye of pioneering in the Illinois of the '60's? "Malarkey" n' rattlesnakes! Any critter 't wants ter git rich out'n them prairies is welcome to it! Such was the current epigram of that time, it was frequently uttered to round out Sena- or Daniel Webster's warning, in a speech at Washington in the 40's "As for me, I will not vote one cent to develop that great American desert!" as the country west of Pittsburgh was known at the time.

But heroes — men with corded muscles and iron-hearts — "lit out" from the east, meaning, as a relative of the writer's once said, "to go west 'n keep goin' till I k'n plow ground, 'stud o' rocks!" Forcing up their energies and hopes was that glorious slogan: "The Ellenoy Central is goin' through."

And, in the mid-'50's, she did! "Clear through" from Dunleith down to Cairo, the future mammoth-of-the-rails was heralding by leather-lunged "boomers" and wily "sooners" the "greatest landboom of history!" And adding the hard-shell preacher's warning to "Git saved 'fore it's everlastin' too late."

Augustus Dickens had "felt the call." He was in Amboy because of the land prospects. But, like a famous other of the "D" tribe, Gus did not seem destined for a "land baron." He later tried to be a merchant, but also failed at that.

Then he became an employee of the land office of the Illinois Central. He remained in service until his death in Chicago in 1866, being at the time in charge of land office correspondence.

He is buried in Graceland cemetery, Chicago, in an unmarked grave, beside his wife and three children, triplets, while his brother, Charles Dickens, lies in the most hallowed spot in England, Westminster Abbey.

PREVENTION OF RHEUMATISM: II

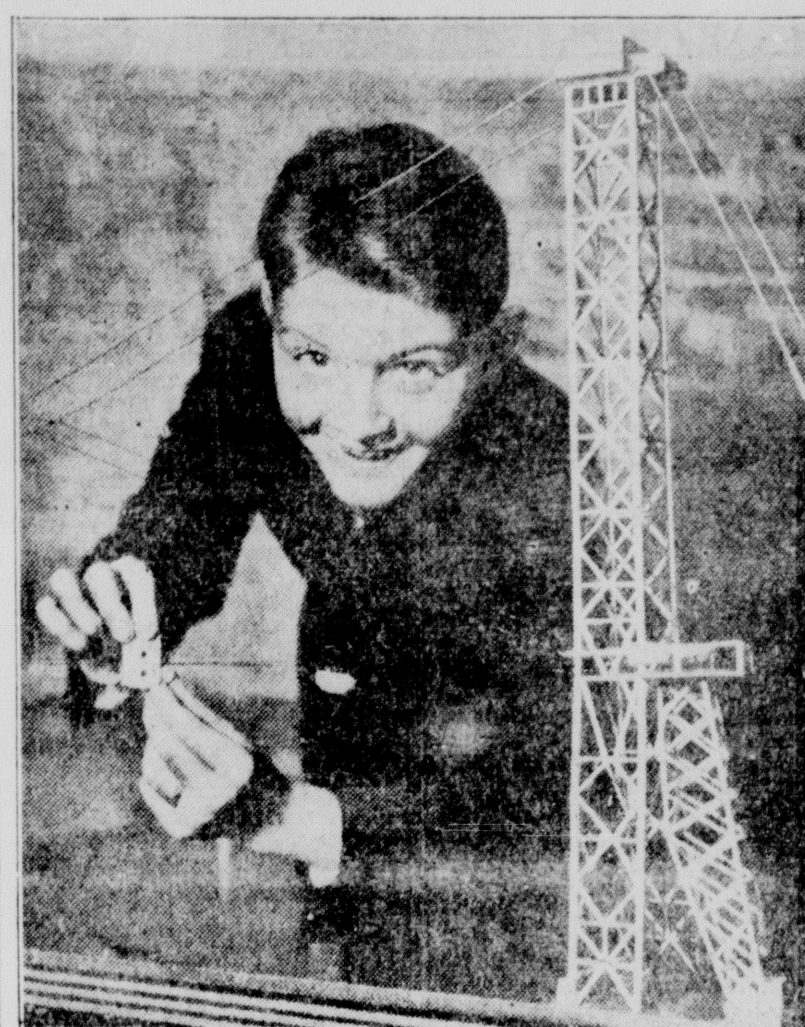

Several factors contribute to rheumatic fever. First and foremost is the infecting agent, the precise nature of which is not definitely established, but the existence of which is not seriously questioned by anyone.

The clinical picture of rheumatic fever, and the various forms of damage which it does to the heart, nerve tissues and other structures of the body, all point to the same conclusion, that we are dealing with an infectious disease. But in addition, other factors apparently contribute.

Climate and surroundings bear an important relation and exercise a marked influence upon the disease. Thus, it is known that in childhood autumn and spring are seasons when rheumatism occurs more frequently. The idea has been advanced that the sudden changes in temperature during these seasons have a debilitating effect upon the young. These are the months of acute sore throat and of colds. These are the months therefore, in which children need more careful supervision as to food and clothing.

Very interesting studies made in England, and comparable studies made in the United States, have shown that rheumatic fever is more common among the children of the lower middle class than among those of the upper middle class, the rich or the very poor. Several English investigators have suggested that many children of the rich and the upper middle class are spared exposure to the rheumatic fever virus by their attendance at private schools, instead of the more crowded public schools.

To quote one authority's exact words, "Acute rheumatism is in my experience unusual in the private preparatory school, though far from being unknown." This he accounts for by the numerous precautions taken in private schools to exclude sick children from the classes. Also, these children receive prompt and adequate medical care whenever they are ill.

"I SELL THEM GASOLINE BUT THEY SOLD ME Plymouth!"

A CERTIFIED INTERVIEW WITH VERNON F. KRAUSE OF CHICAGO, ILL.

"Talking with Drivers of 'All Three' Convinced me that Plymouth gives the Most for your Money"

WHEN VERNON KRAUSE decided to buy a new car, he didn't have to take any time off to "look at All Three." He stayed right where he was . . . in his service station . . . and the cars came to him.

"I just stayed right here," Krause says, "keeping my eyes open and listening to owners compare notes."

Plymouth won their vote in the low-price field . . . hands down. But there wasn't just one reason. There were all kinds of reasons.

Some of his customers said how pleased they were with Hydraulic Brakes. Others boasted of having Safety-Steel Bodies. Many of them mentioned the extra comfort they got from Floating Power engine mountings and Individual Wheel Springing.

"It all added up to the fact that Plymouth gave the most for the money," says Krause.

"The most for your money." Isn't that exactly what you want in a new car? Then Plymouth is the car for you. It's the only low-priced car with all four of the vital features you need.

Any Dodge, De Soto or Chrysler dealer demonstrates Plymouth.

A THOUGHT FOR TODAY

FOR BLOOD AND ENERGY

Mr. Harry Rhoads of 533 College Ave., Aurora, Ill., said: "A few years ago I was run down and had no energy, but Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery built up my system and my blood. It toned up my entire body and I felt stronger and better in every way. It seemed to enrich my blood and it gave me a real spring. All druggists. New size, tablets 50 cts.; liquid $1.00. Large size, tabs. or liquid, $1.35. 'We Do Our Part'."

1. "I wanted a new low-priced car, but I wanted to be sure I got the best. So I decided to let my customers tell me how they liked 'All Three.'"

3. "I liked Plymouth's looks. But my customers showed me there was a lot more to Plymouth than that. They pointed out other features—like Individual Wheel Springing and Hydraulic Brakes."

When Vernon Krause decided to buy a new car, he didn't have to take any time off to "look at All Three." He stayed right where he was . . . in his service station . . . and the cars came to him.

2. "I found that Plymouth owners got more out of the gasoline I sold them. Plymouth drivers all agreed their cars were easy on their pocketbooks."

TROTSKY PLANS FOR PERMANENT REVOLUTION OUT

Communist Leader Is Found Hiding in Guarded Home

Barbizon, France, April 16—(AP)—Leon Trotsky, earning an attack on his life by White Russians, fled today from his newly uncovered hiding place at Barbizon.

Neighbors said the Communist leader, an exile from Soviet Russia, and his wife left the secluded villa here where they had been in hiding for three months shortly after daybreak in a black automobile. Their destination was not revealed.

Trotsky, toiling behind heavy locks and barbed-wire with two guns in easy reach and police dogs menacing passersby, was revealed today as the sponsor of a "Fourth Internationale" whose guiding principle is permanent revolution.

Discovered Sunday
The exiled Russian revolutionist was discovered yesterday when gendarmes expecting to find spies, counterfeiters, Stavisky gangsters or gun smugglers, raided his villa on the edge of the forest of Pont-aubec.

Trotsky said he hid himself behind the high wire fence with its two locked gates because of renewed threats on his life. He suspects White Russians. As a result of the threats, Trotsky was granted secret permission by France to come here four months ago, unknown to local authorities.

Admitted Identity
Here in the secluded villa, Trotsky's spectacular defense against detection attracted so much comment that the place finally was raided.

The raiders found a little old man with beady eyes, seated nervously at his desk in an upstairs room, stroking his goatee. Two pistols lay within inches of his hand. He shifted uneasily. He forced a smile.

"I am Monsieur Soderoff," the man said.

"No," flashed the Magistrate who headed the searching party, recognizing him immediately, "you are Trotsky."

The former head of the Red Army of Russia admitted his identity. He told authorities he was preparing a new party along Communist lines. He calls it the "Fourth Internationale."

The disclosure led to a strict watch over his voluminous mail today. Otherwise there was no indication of further official action.

FIFTH GUEST AT DINNER DENIES WIRT'S CHARGES

They'll Tell Committee It Isn't So And That'll End It

Washington, Apr. 16 — (AP) — A guest at the Virginia dinner made famous by Dr. William A. Wirt's charges of Communistic plotting spoke out today to call Wirt's account of the party "fantastic" and "unfair."

Robert W. Bruere, chairman of the National Industrial Relations Board for the cotton industry, as asserted Dr. Wirt monopolized the conversation with a long lecture setting forth his views on gold.

Bruere and other guests at the dinner, at which Dr. Wirt has said President Roosevelt was referred to as being "only the Kerenky of this revolution," will go tomorrow before the special House committee prying into Wirt's charges.

Is Fifth Denial
With Bruere's statement, five of the six persons who will appear before the committee to tell what went on at the party last September at the Virginia farm home of Miss Alice Barrows, an Interior Department employee, have denied flatly Dr. Wirt's testimony that there was talk of a revolution.

Friends of the sixth—Miss Mary Taylor, editor of a farm administration publication, who has remained silent—expect her to join with the others.

Bruere, whose statement broke silence he had maintained since being named by Dr. Wirt as one of the guests at the dinner, accused the Gary, Ind., educator of "unfairly impairing confidence which is essential to the success of the recovery program."

"I don't mind Mr. Malice," Bruere said, "but I do say that when he makes such irresponsible statements as he made before the investigating committee last Tuesday, I protest his unfairness and unwisdom in casting suspicion about such work as I have described and in striking at that confidence between man and man which is the ultimate foundation of our democratic institutions."

He said he had no recollection of any reference at Miss Barrows' dinner to Secretary of Agriculture Wallace or to his assistant, Rexford Guy Tugwell, both of whom figured prominently in Wirt's testimony.

Constantine's Sunday Order
Constantine's famous Sunday edict was issued March 7, 321. The translation is: Constantine, Emperor Augustus, to Helpidius: On the venerable day of the sun let the magistrates and people residing in the cities rest, and let all workshops be closed. In the country, however, persons engaged in agriculture may freely and lawfully continue their pursuits; because it often happens that another day is not so suitable for grain sowing or for vine planting; lest by neglecting the proper moment for such operations, the bounty of heaven should be lost.

Charges CWA Men Damaged New York Parks

New York—Civil Works administration men and other relief workers are damaged by the New York City parks and parkway to such an extent that "millions of dollars" would have been saved had the workers received outright doles. Gilmore D. Clark, consulting landscape architect of the park department, declared at a "know your city" meeting in the Women's City club.

"I am confident," he said, that not only would the dole have saved millions in damage and hundreds of thousands in restoration work, but that it would not have lessened the self-respect of the workers. "I can't imagine the men would have lost any more self-respect than did by leaning on shovel handles around fires. When they didn't lean on shovels they did damage, or no good. They even cut down trees to make fires."

As an illustration of the waste, Mr. Clark said that the bath house built of granite paving blocks in Pelham Bay park at an estimated cost of $200,000, were so inadequately planned that they had to be torn down.

Those Mosquito Bites
Preventing insanity with mosquito bites that serve as a method of infecting a patient with malaria has had "very satisfactory results" it was reported by Dr. Paul A. O'Leary of Rochester, Minn.

The mosquito bite may be either a real one from a malaria infected mosquito or an artificial "bite" given by injecting malaria germs in a serum made from saliva glands of mosquitoes that have been removed by one of the world's most delicate surgical operations.

The mosquito bite prevention is used for the type of insanity known as general paresis, caused by a blood infection. Paresis also causes progressive paralysis of the body.

Malaria has been used successfully for a number of years in treating paresis after it took hold, and using it for prevention of the disease when its onset is feared is an extension of this practice.

BRETHREN CHURCH
The interest and fellowship at the Brethren Church yesterday was very encouraging. The Sunday school was well attended, and a still larger crowd attended the preaching service.

There were twenty people who assisted in the Sunday evening service, "Christ's Mission." This was illustrated in word and song to a full house and was appreciated very much. The numbers were well given and enjoyed by all.

"Regeneration" will be the subject for the prayer and consecration service Wednesday night. We have been having a large attendance at these services and visitors and friends are always welcome.

The Ladies Aid will meet at the church Thursday afternoon. There will be plenty of work for those who may attend.

The Dr. Halley Bible lectures will continue this week at the M. E. church each evening at 7:30. The members of this church are urged to attend these services.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES
"Are Sin, Disease, and Death Real?" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, April 15.

The Golden Text was, "I will restore health unto thee, and I will heal thee of thy wounds, saith the Lord" (Jeremiah 30:17).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "Sing, O daughter of Zion; shout, O Israel; be glad and rejoice with all thy heart, O daughter of Jerusalem. The Lord hath taken away thy judgments, he hath cast out thine enemy; in the midst of thee: thou shalt not see evil any more" (Zephaniah 3:14, 15).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "The best sermon ever preached is Truth practiced and demonstrated by the destruction of sin, sickness, and death" (p. 201).

Chicago, April 16 — (AP) — Saving people from threatened amputation of limbs by a "message" treatment, and new progress in preventing insanity by mosquito bites were reported today to the opening session of the American College of Physicians.

"The message" treatment, used to treat diseased blood vessels in arms and legs, has in some cases saved the limbs of people who otherwise would have had to have them amputated, because it prevented their infection with gangrene, said Dr. Eugene M. Landis, Philadelphia.

The treatment also has been helpful for ulcers, bluesness of the skin and some forms of pain that result from blood vessel disease, Dr. Landis said.

CUBS AND REDS MAY PLAY GAME HERE JUNE 11th

Date Is Assured If Park
Can be Made Ready for Exhibition

Two National league baseball clubs are available to formally open the Reynolds Memorial Athletic field on Monday, June 11, it was announced today, following a visit to Chicago Saturday by Ward Miller, who again conferred with President W. B. Walker of the Chicago Cubs. June 11 is an open date for the Cubs and the Cincinnati Reds, and it plans which are now under way can be completed these two National league clubs can be secured for the above date in Dixon. The entire Cub team may make the trip, President Walker assured the Dixon representative, together with the regular Cincinnati club.

President Walker assured Miller that the plan met with his approval and that he would discuss the proposal with the Cincinnati management during the Cubs' visit to that city this week.

Several weeks ago the Cub management was approached in Chicago for an open date to come to the new field. At that time, it was planned to play a pre-season game here, but President Walker suggested an open date during the regular playing season, reserving the first open date for the Dixon game. Monday, June 11 is the first open date which the Cubs have available.

It will be necessary to complete the work of building the baseball park before the teams will consider coming to Dixon. President Walker stipulated in his talk with Ward Miller Saturday that the playing field must be in first class playing condition to avoid possible injury to any of the players.

Much Work Remains
A movement was under way today to ascertain whether the field can be made ready for play on this date. The cessation of the CWA work has halted all activity at the field and on account of the cold weather only a limited amount of work could be carried on at the site during the winter. The work has progressed to a point, however, where the playing field can be put first class condition in June. The major part of the program is the erection of the stands and the building of a fence. A plan to complete the work so that the field can be in perfect condition and the stands and fences erected, is being considered today, and every effort will be made to bring the two National league baseball clubs to Dixon for this event.

TOMORROW BIG DAY IN SEVEN BASEBALL TOWNS

Business of Beginning
Season Will Get
Under Way Then

By HUGH S. FULLERTON

(Associated Press Sports Writer)
New York, April 16.—(AP)—Sixteen major league clubs, all of them enveloped in a new aura of optimism, will give the 1934 baseball season its big send-off tomorrow, following today's preview at Washington which brings together the Senators and the Boston Red Sox.

On every side only cheerful words are heard about the year's prospects. Players of a dozen clubs say to look for them in the world series; less exuberant managers predict they will be at least very close to the top; club owners already have their ears cocked to hear the turnstiles clicking at a merrier rate, and it's a faint hearted fan who won't claim the pennant, world championship and everything in sight for his favorite club.

The pennant races in both leagues figure to be close. The swaps and purchases of the busy off-season bring a lot of new faces to attract the fans. The further strengthening of the Red Sox and the new deal at Cincinnati under the ownership of Powell Crosley Jr., figure to bring better balance in the standings, while the first Sunday baseball in Pennsylvania may help the Philadelphia and Pittsburgh clubs recoup their losses of recent years. National League magnates hope the new ball and increased slugging will attract more fans to their parks.

Five teams approach the season under new management. In the American League Mickey Cochrane is expected to lift Detroit's Tigers into a contending position. Unfortunately, they arrived late, and witnessed only the disembarking of part of her 24 stabilizers. Van Dusen, who won the 1929 Derby with his namesake, Clyde Van Dusen, and was second in 1931 with Sweep All, said Mata Hari "has done everything asked of her in great style, and as she beat the best of her age last year, I see no reason why she won't this year."

Albert Sabath's Dan Sabath did the fastest three-quarters of the season when he covered the distance in 1:13 3-5, galloping out the mile in 1:42 1-5. Norman D, a stablemate, did the three-quarters in 1:14 3-5 and the mile in 1:44 1-5.

Joseph E. Widener's Peace Chance won additional admirers after a double-wrapped trial in which the son of Chance Shot covered the quarter in 25 2-5, half in 50 4-5, three quarters in 1:16 and winding up the oval with a handy 1:42 2-5.

Louisville, Ky., April 16.—(AP)—Mata Hari, queen of the Derby candidates, arrived today from Lexington, and a turnout of the largest gallery of Derby fans assembled here this year greeted the Dixiana stable filly which is being conditioned by Clyde Van Dusen. Giants wound up baseball as well as the Senators last year.

Have Tried to Forget

In accordance with another old baseball custom, the Senators already have forgotten all that and Washington has tried to. Even there was a threat of showers to mar the festivities, a crowd of between 20,000 and 25,000 was expected to see Earl Whitehill, the left handed veteran who alone stopped the Giants, attempt to start the Senators on another winning way after the customary march of players and officials to the flag pole, the usual presidential wild pitch of the first ball, and the general photographing and visiting of baseball dignitaries, headed by the league president, William Harridge.

The Senators expected to face another great left hander today, Robert Moses Grove, but the head man in the Boston rejuvenation is still suffering from a quaint ailment, a toothache in his pitching arm. Another southpaw, Bob Weiland, probably will sub for him with Rick Ferrel catching him. Moe Berg, replacing injured Luke Sewell, will work behind the bat for Washington. Otherwise the champions look exactly as they did in 1933, except that Ossie Bluege has a new sore knee and wears glasses, and Jonathan Stone has replaced Goose Goslin in right field.

New Red Sox Team

The Red Sox are virtually unrecognizable as such. Julius Solters, a big rookie, and Carl Reynolds have joined Roy Johnson in the outfield with old Joe Judge, who once helped the Sox new manager, Bucky Harris, win pennants here, at first base; Max Bishop of the A's at second; Bill Werber at short and Buck Walters third.

Last season Boston bowed 18 times to the Senators. Greatly stiffened resistance in this quarter alone is one of the reasons why the Senators enter the campaign against balanced opposition that the league has known in years no better than even money to beat the Yankees.

The U. S. Senate, which had the field to itself all winter, was in recess for a purpose and the House of Representatives was in a hurry to get out to the ball game.

British Challenger

for America's Cup

was Launched Today

Portsmouth, Eng., Apr. 16.—(AP)—Endeavour, the yacht which will carry Britain's hopes across the seas as challenger for the America's Cup, was launched successfully today.

Mrs. T. O. M. Sopwith, wife of the owner, smashed a bottle of champagne on the hull, which was wrapped with the Sopwith racing colors, saying:

"I name you Endeavour, and with all my heart I wish you a cupful of luck."

A pile was jerked and the beautiful yacht slid slowly into the water with her crew aboard.

The launching of the blue racer, 128 feet of steel, drew hundreds of spectators.

RUNYAN'S SCORE IN WINTER PLAY SETS NEW RECORD

White Plains Golf Pro Averaged 71 Every
18 Holes Played

New York, April 16.—(AP)—Paul Runyan, little shotmaker from White Plains, N. Y., hung up a scoring record during the winter golfing wars that perhaps never has been equalled.

Biggest money winner of the season, Runyan smacked par around so lustily that his average per 18-hole round was only a fraction over 71 strokes, an astounding feat in view of the fact that the White Plains star was one of the busiest of all the pros during the season that took the machine-wielders through California, Texas, Florida, Georgia, the Carolinas and Virginia as well as to Agua Caliente in Mexico.

All told, Runyan used up 4,356 shots in 61 rounds, a tabulation of the winter's scoring records made public through the Professional Golfers' Association showed today. That is an average of 71 25-61 per 18 holes. Taking it another way, he was 56 under fours for 1008 holes of medal play.

Olin Dutra, the gay caballero from Los Angeles, and Willie Hunter, another Los Angeles luminary, also compiled average scores that bettered 72 per round, but they played only 18 and 17 rounds respectively.

Real Runner-Up

The real runner-up was the sensational new-comer from Denver, Ky. Laffoon, who averaged 72 29-45 strokes in 54 rounds. "Lighthorse Harry" Cooper of Chicago was third among those who played 40 rounds or more with an average of 72 11-13. Trailing him were Denny Shute of Philadelphia, John Revolta of Milwaukee and Horton Smith of Chicago.

Smith, second only to Runyan in money winnings, was the only player listed who played more rounds than the White Plains ace. The one-time "Joplin Ghost," staging a remarkable comeback after several lean years, played 62 rounds and averaged 73 strokes.

Had Lowest Score

Although Runyan set up scoring records in the Bellair west coast tourney with 276, and in the Tournament of Gardens at Charleston, S. C., with a fourth-round 65 and a 72-hole total of 273, he saved his chief fire for Cavalier open, where he put together almost unbelievable rounds of 69-68-66-67 for a total of 270, undoubtedly the lowest score ever shot in a recognized tourney.

In addition to these victories

Runyan also won the National Capital open, Pasadena and St. Petersburg tournaments, tied for the Mid-South title, finished second teamed with Smith, in the international four-ball, and tied for third in the Golf Masters' Classic at Augusta.

The list of averages, showing 13 professionals with average scores of 73 or better, follows:

Player rds. stks. ave.
P. Runyan 61 4356 71 25-61
O. Dutra 18 1294 71 8-9
